Division of Undergraduate Education

Winter 2017

Welcome to Our First Divisional Newsletter!

by Richard Hughey, Vice Provost and Dean of Undergraduate Education

We will send these out periodically, with information, updates, and observations from throughout the Division of Undergraduate Education. UE is a large collaboration of people and units working on many projects that affect not just every undergraduate on our campus, but also future students throughout the state, alumni, graduate students, faculty, staff, and the broader community.

Divisional Brown Bag Sessions

Ever wanted to know how to handle bullying in the workplace? Interested in learning more about supervising? Undergraduate Education will start hosting brown bags in Spring quarter on topics such as these. We will host these opportunities monthly to learn from one another and grow our skillset. If you have a suggested topic for one of the brown bags, submit it to ugdiv@ucsc.edu.

New Divisional Resources Developed

Over the past few months divisional staff has been putting together a resource designed to serve as a one-stop shop for items related to organizational resources, financial affairs, human resources, or systems. The result is the Divisional Toolkit.

GIVING DAY 2017!
